DUTIES

About the Position:

While the Department of Marketing welcomes applications with specializations in all areas within marketing, we are especially interested in candidates with an established or developing research profile in Marketing Analytics.

Appointments may be made at the rank of Assistant Professor, Associate Professor or Professor depending on the experience of the successful candidate.

In addition to teaching core undergraduate and MBA courses in marketing, the successful candidate will teach selected upper-year field courses, which are typically relevant to their areas of research specialization. The normal teaching load for the "tripartite" (research+teaching+service) stream at Thompson Rivers University consists of five (three-credit) courses over the fall and winter terms.

About the Department of Marketing

The Department of Marketing is one of five departments in the Bob Gaglardi School of Business and Economics (BGSoBE). We are a supportive and collegial team, with eight full-time faculty members. The Department offers and contributes to wide range of programs including:

- A Major in Marketing within the Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) degree
- Teaching and supervision within the Master of Business Administration (MBA),
- A Post Baccalaureate Diploma in Marketing
- A Minor in Marketing

In addition, we deliver core courses to all BBA, and post baccalaureate students.

About the Bob Gaglardi School of Business and Economics

With over 3000 on-campus students, the Bob Gaglardi School of Business and Economics is the largest business school in the interior of British Columbia, offering undergraduate, post baccalaureate and graduate programs in business and economics including Master of Business Administration (MBA). The Gagliardi School is also Thompson Rivers University's largest faculty. What makes the School unique is that, even with its size, it maintains a collaborative environment, with support provided to assist professors with both research and teaching.

About Thompson Rivers University

With over 25,000 on-campus and online students and more than 100 undergraduate and graduate programs in eight diverse faculties, TRU celebrates academic excellence and excels at providing exceptional experiential learning opportunities. TRU delivers graduate and undergraduate programs in Business, Law, Nursing, education, Computer Science and Arts and Science. Our students and faculty reflect the local, national and global community. TRU provides a rich and engaging student-centred environment where students and faculty know each other by name. TRU strives to create inclusive and rewarding student experiences, both on and off campus.

What TRU Offers

TRU offers competitive salary, benefits and a defined benefit pension plan, personal development funds and sabbaticals outlined by the TRUFA collective agreement. The Gagliardi School and TRU provide researchers the opportunity to apply to a variety of research funding sources available. TRU's classes and offices are located on a spectacular campus with panoramic views of the Thompson Rivers and surrounding mountains. Nestled between hiking trails of Kenna Cartwright Park and within walking distance of downtown, TRU offers a country in the city feeling that is unlike most other universities.

Welcome to the BC Interior

Thompson Rivers University is located in Kamloops, British Columbia. Life in the sunny interior of British Columbia provides immediate access to some of the most incredible outdoor experiences Canada has to offer ranging from winter sports at Sun Peaks, to some of Canada's best mountain biking and hiking trails. Located between the Coast and Rocky Mountains, Kamloops is within a 30 minutes from many beautiful freshwater lakes, and only three and a half hours from Vancouver. With a relatively mild winter and spectacularly warm and dry summers, Kamloops offers a high quality of life. While the city is still small with less than 100,000 inhabitants, it is served by an airport, a hospital, the university, a WHL hockey team and yet still maintains a small-town feel where one rarely commutes longer than 10 or 15 minutes. It is a safe community to raise a family and maintains reasonable housing prices.
