Institute of Management and Organization

Assistant Professor in Management (tenure-track), Faculty of Economics at USI Università della Svizzera italiana

Università della Svizzera italiana (USI) is a young and lively university, a hub of opportunity open to the world where students are offered a quality interdisciplinary education in which they can be fully engaged and take center stage, and where our researchers can count on having the space to freely pursue their initiative.

Established in 1996, USI is in constant evolution, always taking on new challenges while remaining true to its three guiding principles: quality, openness and responsibility.

Facing the challenges of today's globalised economies entails the ability to interpret and manage complexity. With professors who are at the forefront of research in their respective fields, the Faculty of Economics is the ideal venue to acquire competence, flexibility, and enough intellectual curiosity to identify fundamental issues and face them with creativity and talent.

The Faculty of Economics invites applications from candidates of international research standing for an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) position in Management.

The position

The Faculty of Economics of USI provides a young and dynamic environment with strong research competences in the areas of economics, finance, and management. The position is affiliated with the Institute of Management and Organization (IMO) that coordinates research and teaching in the field of management (for more information, see <https://imo.usi.ch/en>).

The candidate's profile

The ideal candidate holds a research focus in any area of Management (e.g., Entrepreneurship, Operations, Organizational Behavior, Organization Theory, Strategy, Technology and Innovation, etc.). We are looking for ambitious candidates who can publish in top-tier journals, acquire competitive grants, and teach in a multi-cultural environment. The new professor is expected to contribute to undergraduate, master, and PhD programs, supervise doctoral students, and actively participate in the development of the Institute, the Faculty, and the University.

USI Università della Svizzera italiana is aware of the various and different backgrounds of its employees and, as an institution that promotes diversity and inclusion, USI particularly encourages applications by female candidates and of all under-represented categories.

Teaching load

The teaching load for an Assistant Professor is 11ECTS per year, about 90/120 teaching hours per year.

Residence

Professors typically reside in the Ticino Canton, which is part of the Italian-speaking area of Switzerland. The new professor is expected to provide consistent participation in the academic and institutional activities of the university.

Salary and contract

The salary is within a range established by University regulations and it is competitive with top European institutions. The exact amount will be defined depending on experience and academic qualifications.
