

Lecturer / Senior Lecturer / Associate Professor in International Business

Company:

University of Auckland

Location:

New Zealand / Auckland

Discipline:

International Business

Employment Type:

Permanent Full-time

Posted:

16/09/2024

Contact Person:

If you wish to apply for this position, please specify that you saw it on AKADEUS.

Lecturer/Senior Lecturer/Associate Professor - International Business

Auckland, New Zealand

Full-time

Contract Type: Permanent

Campus: Auckland City Campus

Position Number: 55573510

UoA Department Name: Management & Intl Business

Company Description

Waipapa Taumata Rau | The University of Auckland

The University of Auckland creates globally transformative impacts through our distinctive strengths in world-leading research, scholarship, teaching and collaborative partnerships, inspired by our unique position in Aotearoa New Zealand and the Asia-Pacific.

Job Description

Te Whiwhinga mahi | The opportunity

The Department of MIB is seeking to appoint two full-time permanent staff at the Lecturer/Senior Lecturer/Associate Professor level in IB. They will play key roles in the research and teaching of International Business at the University of Auckland. We are particularly interested in appointing IB scholars with strong capabilities in quantitative methods and modern analytical tools (with one of the hired candidates likely to teach not only IB courses, but also courses in our growing Master of Business Analytics programme), and/or IB academics that could also contribute to our MBA programme (e.g., teach a course on Global Success and Scaling Up.)

Candidates at the Lecturer level should demonstrate the potential to publish in top journals in International Business and related disciplines, and candidates at the Senior Lecturer and Associate Professor should have already published in such outlets and have developed a portfolio of publications, including some in top-tier journals.

It is highly desirable that candidates can teach across IB and other related modules taught in a business school. We are looking for innovative and preferably experienced teachers with proven abilities to use various teaching methods, such as student-centred learning and flipped classrooms at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

These are both full-time, 40 hours per week; the salary range is - $94,981 - $157,822 per annum.

For more detailed information, please refer to the Position Description.

Mō tō mātou rōpū | About the team

The University of Auckland Business School (UABS) is focused on being one of the Asia-Pacific's foremost business schools, known for the relevance and impact of our research and scholarship and the quality of our people, programmes, and partnerships. It is housed in the purpose-built Sir Owen G Glenn Building, which provides state-of-the-art teaching and learning facilities. UABS is accredited by all three of the world's top business school accrediting bodies (AACSB in the US, EQUIS in Europe, and AMBA in the UK), while the university as a whole is ranked in the top one percent of all universities worldwide (according to the Times Higher Education QS World University Rankings). Surrounded by stunning nature, Auckland is regularly voted as one of the most liveable cities in the world.

The Department of Management and International Business (MIB) is one of seven departments within the UABS. The department comprises five disciplinary areas: Organisation Studies, Human Resource Management and Organisational Behaviour, International Business, Entrepreneurship, and Innovation and Strategy. The disciplines are taught across the programmes in the UABS, including undergraduate, postgraduate taught and research programmes, and PhD. The department also contributes to the Master of Business Administration, the Master of Business Management, and the Master of Business Development in the Graduate School of Management. Members of the department are highly qualified and experienced academics who have made important contributions to the above disciplines. Several institutes and research centres involve members of this department, including the Aotearoa Centre for Leadership and Governance, the Centre for Research on Modern Slavery, the Centre for Enterprising Women, and the Dame Mira Szazy Research Centre.

The two advertised positions reside within the International Business (IB) Disciplinary Area. Members of the IB Disciplinary Area have been publishing in leading journals in IB and related disciplines. They have also contributed to teaching excellence in the Master of Management (International Business specialisation) programme, ranked no. 3 globally in the QS International Trade Rankings 2024 (MBA and Master's).

He kōrero mōu | About you

Our ideal candidate will be a team player who will support the Department of MIB and, more specifically, the IB Disciplinary Area in a wide range of scholarly activities and engagement. You will have strong communication skills and will be able to articulate your plans and ideas. Suitably qualified with a PhD degree in IB (or a closely related discipline), our ideal candidate will also have the following skills and experience:

- Potential (L) or proven track record (SL/AP) in successfully delivering IB undergraduate and postgraduate courses in a business school
- Potential (L) or proven (SL/AP) publication track record in top IB journals (e.g., Australian Business Deans Council A* or A-ranked or ABS 4*, 4 or 3-point journals)
- Potential (L) or proven (SL/AP) track record attracting funding from both internal and external reputable funding schemes
- Ability (L) or proven (SL/AP) track record in designing curriculum (part or entire programme/course)
- Ability (L) or proven (SL/AP) track record in successfully supervising graduate students' research in International Business (PhDs and Masters)

Ngā āhuatanga kei a mātou | What we offer

The University of Auckland is New Zealand's leading university and maintains significant computational, laboratory and analytic facilities. Auckland itself is frequently rated as one of the world's most liveable cities.

The University is committed to providing an excellent working environment through:

- Flexible employment practices (including working from home, flexible hours)
- Up to 6.75% company superannuation scheme
- A competitive salary with five weeks' annual leave

In addition, we offer career development programmes, discounted car parking, a generous parental leave allowance, childcare and several other discounts on internal and external services. For more information please visit Staff Benefits.

Me pēhea te tuku tono | How to apply

Please note we are happy to answer your questions, but we do not accept applications by email.

Applications must be submitted online, by the closing date of October 3rd, 2024 to be considered. Please include your CV and cover letter highlighting how you can meet the skills and experiences detailed above and in the position description.

Additional Information

Equity

The University is committed to meeting its obligations under the Treaty of Waitangi and achieving equity outcomes for staff and students in a safe, inclusive, and equitable environment. For further information on services for Māori, Pacific, women, LGBTQIATakatāpuiMVPFAFF+, people with disabilities, parenting support, flexible work and other personal circumstances go to www.equity.auckland.ac.nz

The University is committed to providing a safe, inclusive, and equitable environment where everyone can thrive. For further information see Te Ara Tautika | the Equity Policy and visit www.equity.auckland.ac.nz

I'm interested

Contact Person:

If you wish to apply for this position, please specify that you saw it on AKADEUS.