

Professor of Finance

Company:

University of Graz

Location:

Austria / Graz

Discipline:

Employment Type:

Permanent Full-time

Posted:

19/09/2024

Contact Person:

If you wish to apply for this position, please specify that you saw it on AKADEUS.

At the School of Business, Economics and Social Sciences, the University of Graz is seeking to appoint a

Professor of Finance

(40 hours per week; selection procedure in accordance with Section 98 of the Universities Act (UG); permanent employment according to the Austrian Law on Salaried Employment (AngG); expected starting date October 1st 2025)

The School of Business, Economics and Social Sciences fosters a collaborative research environment to constantly increase the school's visibility and reputation as a leading institution for academic research and teaching in the fields of business, economics and social sciences. The holder of this professorship is expected to contribute to the school's success with ongoing excellence in research, promotion of early-stage researchers and commitment to teaching. The successful candidate's research will focus on Corporate Finance, Behavioral Finance, Household Finance or Financial Innovation and apply a quantitative data-driven research approach. Teaching is expected in English and German at the bachelor's, master's and doctoral levels in the field of Corporate Finance. We also expect gender mainstreaming skills.

Please submit your applications stating the reference number BV/21/98 ex 2023/24 by October 16th 2024 at the latest. For information about the application procedures and other prerequisites, please visit jobsprof.uni-graz.at/en/. Planned dates of the applicant's presentation: 26.-28.03.2025

Contact Person:

If you wish to apply for this position, please specify that you saw it on AKADEUS.