Job Qualifications:

The School of Management at Universidad de los Andes (Bogotá, Colombia) seeks applications for a full-time Assistant Professor position in Analytics. The ideal candidate should have experience or a strong interest in analytics, including visualization, data mining, multivariate methods, and supply chain analytics. Additionally, candidates should be proficient in programming languages commonly used in analytics, such as Python or R, and have a solid understanding of machine learning techniques and their applications in business decision-making.

Preference will be given to candidates with a clear commitment to research, particularly in the areas of applied analytics, data-driven decision-making, supply chain analytics and emerging technologies. A dedication to the continuous improvement of teaching and course content at both the undergraduate and graduate levels is also highly valued.

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. or be near completion in a relevant field and demonstrate the potential to publish in high-quality, peer-reviewed journals. Additionally, candidates should have a strong ability to collaborate with industry partners and engage in interdisciplinary research that bridges academia and business challenges.

We are interested in candidates with:

A Ph.D., either completed or near completion, in Management Information Systems, Business, Industrial Engineering, Systems Engineering, Economics, or another relevant field.

A desire and aptitude to contribute to a successful and fast-growing educational organization

Potential for research and publication in international peer-reviewed journals.

An ability to contribute to different undergraduate and postgraduate programs.

Applications: Applicants should submit the following:

- Cover letter explaining your motivation
- Curriculum vitae
- A statement of teaching, including course evaluations (if applicable)
- A statement of research
- A copy of two recent working papers/published
- At least three confidential letters of reference (please ask referees to send reference letter directly to email below)

Send electronic versions of your application package to adm-recruit@uniandes.edu.co. Only complete applications will be considered.

Processing of applications will begin March 1, 2025, until vacancy completion. Appointments start on any time after August 1 - 2025. The level of compensation is competitive internationally and will be determined based on education and experience following University guidelines. Detailed information will be provided once the candidate is offered a position.
