

Assistant / Associate / Full Professorship in Law

Company:

Grenoble Ecole de Management

Location:

France / Grenoble

Discipline:

Law

Employment Type:

Permanent Full-time

Posted:

17/03/2025

Contact Person:

If you wish to apply for this position, please specify that you saw it on AKADEUS.

Assistant/Associate/Full Professorship in Law at Grenoble Ecole de Management

The Department of Accounting, Law and Finance of Grenoble Ecole de Management invites applications for an assistant, associate or senior position in Law for September 2025, either for Paris or Grenoble campus (full-time position). This recruitment is a key component of our new strategic plan, Eagle 2030, which reflects our determination to further strengthen our core values and embracing our Alpine identity. Eagle 2030 outlines GEM's vision for excellence and commitment to facilitating significant transitions over the next five years. Built around three essential pillars, this plan reinforces GEM's status as the Business School of Science, Transitions, and Learning Journeys, showcasing our ambitious and transformative approach to education

JOB QUALIFICATIONS: we are looking for candidates with passion for and solid record in teaching and research in Law and related fields. Candidates should demonstrate proven ability to teach to multicultural groups at levels ranging from Bachelor, Master, to MBA. The position involve course development, peer and student supervision and evaluation. Fluency in French is preferred and proficiency in English is required. Candidates should hold a PhD in their field of expertise.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT: The Department of Accounting, Law and Finance at Grenoble Ecole de Management currently consists of permanent faculty members with varied research interests and teaching expertise, in corporate finance, corporate governance, financial markets, accounting, and law.

ABOUT THE SCHOOL: Grenoble Ecole de Management (GEM) is a triple-accredited (AACSB, EQUIS, AMBA) international business school recognized for its leadership at the intersection of innovation, technology, and sustainability. Celebrating 40 years, GEM is deeply integrated into the vibrant ecosystem—known as France’s Silicon Valley—leveraging strategic partnerships with world-leading institutions and companies such as CEA, STMicroelectronics, Schneider Electric, and over 600 corporate collaborators.

Faculty at GEM engage in pioneering educational and research initiatives, including the Alpine Immersive Learning Journey, which blends experiential, virtual, and outdoor learning environments to address global transitions and challenges. With campuses in Grenoble, Paris-Pantin, and international locations, GEM offers a stimulating and diverse environment ideal for research and pedagogical innovation. GEM provides a stimulating environment through distinctive research centers and institutes and GEM Labs, a pioneering facility for immersive experiences, gamification, and collaborative research in management and innovation.

Joining GEM means becoming part of an intellectually dynamic community committed to developing responsible leaders for a sustainable future. For more information, visit <http://www.grenoble-em.com>.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: Deadline 30th April 2025 or until the position is filled. Please provide your CV with the names and contact information of three referees, a cover letter describing your motivations to join the team and recent teaching evaluations. Candidates seeking a position with research objectives must send a description of their research activities and pipeline plus two research papers. Qualified candidates need to send their application package by email to the head of the department lamya.kermiche@grenoble-em.com.

Contact Person:

If you wish to apply for this position, please specify that you saw it on AKADEUS.