HELBUS Helsinki School of Business - Lecturer in People Development and Leadership (MBA level)

Location: Helsinki, Finland on-site and online from home base

Contract: Part-time, fixed-term

Teaching Period: September 2025 – January 2026

Application Deadline: June 22, 2025

HELBUS is seeking an experienced instructor to teach “People Development and Leadership” (HRMM093), a core module in the MBA programme delivered in partnership with the University of Northampton (UK). The module follows a set curriculum and is delivered through a Transnational Education arrangement.

Key Responsibilities:

- Deliver, assess, and coordinate the module in collaboration with UoN and HELBUS leaders

- Engage mature MBA students using student-centred, active learning methods
- Prepare and provide feedback on assignments according to UoN criteria

Requirements:

- Teaching experience of the subject at postgraduate (MBA) level
- Expertise in strategic people development, global HR strategy, and inclusive leadership
- Ph.D. or Master's in business or related field
- Excellent English communication skills

Preferred:

- UK higher education experience, formal teaching qualification, and HR industry practice

To Apply:

Submit your application via the portal link on our website:

<https://www.helbus.fi/en/meille-toihin/> Please include your CV (using the proposed template), teaching qualification certificate, and latest educational degree certificate.

We may fill the position earlier if an ideal candidate is identified. Only applications submitted through the portal will be considered. Interviews will take place in late July.

If you are interested in teaching at HELBUS but are unavailable for this specific opportunity, we warmly encourage you to submit an open application through our website, linked above. We regularly review these applications when new teaching needs arise.
