Budapest Corvinus University

(Headquarters: 1093 Budapest, Fővám tér 8.)

announces a call for applications for the position of

Dean for Artificial Intelligence

The University will only be able to realize its ambitious goals — providing outstanding academic programs and student-centered education, significantly increasing international research visibility, and operating innovative institutional-corporate partnerships — if it utilizes Artificial Intelligence (AI) not merely as a tool, but as a transformative force. In achieving this goal, the Dean responsible for Artificial Intelligence plays a pivotal role. The employer of the Dean is the Rector. The Dean is an executive employee.

Main Responsibilities and Duties of the Dean are to:

- Ethically leverage the potential of artificial intelligence and related technologies to enhance the University's education, research, third mission activities, services and operations;
- Develop the University's Artificial Intelligence Strategy;
- Coordinate actions and initiatives aimed at the implementation of the strategy;
- Establish regulatory frameworks for the use of artificial intelligence in collaboration

Additionally, the Dean supports the following strategic objectives related to the renewal of the university strategy:

- Enhance the quality of education and research;
- Establish successful research groups for national and international grant applications;
- Contribute to the development and implementation of the "teaching assistant" system.

Details of employment:

Full-time, fixed-term executive position in accordance with the University's Employment Requirements and the Act I of 2012 on the Labour Code of Hungary. The executive appointment is for a fixed term period of 4 years.

Place of Work:

Budapest Corvinus University (1093 Budapest, Fővám tér 8.)

Application Requirements:

- Employment in a higher education institution in an academic or research position, at the level of associate professor, full professor or research professor;
- A doctoral (Ph.D.) degree;
- At least two years of leadership or management experience;
- Lecturing and research experience at an internationally recognised level;
- Proficiency in English

Expected Competencies:

- Strategic thinking and strategic management;
- Knowledge and application of strategic change management tools;
- Empowering and motivational leadership attitude;
- Human resource management skills;
- Coordination and collaboration abilities;
- International academic and professional network;
- Performance- and result-orientation.

Required Documents and Certifications:

- Personal documents:
 - Professional CV;
 - Motivation letter;
 - A certificate of good conduct issued within the last three months, including confirmation that the applicant is not subject to employment restrictions.
 - Declaration of willingness to submit a financial disclosure statement (no standard form);
 - Declaration of other employment relationships and potential conflicts of interest (internal applicants who have already submitted a conflict-of-interest declaration via the university's online platform and have had no changes since then do not need to resubmit);
 - Employee statement about personal conflict of interest;
 - Copies of documents proving required qualifications and experience, including language proficiency certifications. If the Ph.D. degree was obtained abroad, a nostrification certificate is required.
- Professional and leadership concept (4-6 pages), including:
 - A vision aligned with the university strategy, presenting the goals to be achieved (for a period of four-years);
 - Strategic plans, action plans, and measures aimed at achieving the vision and objectives, considering strengths, areas for improvement, and the educational and research environment;

Salary and Benefits:
