Position Overview

The successful candidate will be responsible for developing and delivering high-quality lectures and seminars in Finance and/or Economics at undergraduate and graduate levels. Areas of teaching may include (but are not limited to):

- Finance: Principles of Finance, Financial Accounting, Financial Management, Financial Markets, and Investments.
- Economics: Microeconomics, Macroeconomics.

The role also includes supervision of bachelor's and master's theses, active research, and participation in academic and institutional initiatives.

Key Responsibilities

- Develop and deliver engaging, high-quality lectures and seminars in Finance and/or Economics.
- Design and update course materials to ensure alignment with current industry practices and academic standards.
- Mentor and supervise students preparing bachelor's and/or master's theses.
- Conduct independent research in Finance and/or Economics, publishing in AJG-ranked academic journals.
- Present research findings at academic conferences and apply for competitive research grants.
- Collaborate with faculty members on research projects in Finance and/or Economics and contribute to interdisciplinary initiatives.
- Participate in faculty meetings, committees, and community-related activities.

Qualifications

- PhD or PhD Candidate in Finance and/or Economics, or a closely related field.
- At least 3 years of teaching experience in higher education (Finance and/or Economics, or related areas).
- A proven track record of research publications in recognized AJG-ranked journals.
- Strong international academic or professional experience, preferably in European or North American institutions.
- Demonstrated excellence in teaching and a strong commitment to student-centered learning.
- Ability to effectively communicate complex concepts and engage students in an interactive learning environment.
- Collaborative mindset and strong interpersonal skills for working in a diverse academic community.

What We Offer

- An academic environment where the desire and passion to positively impact society are key motivators.
- Meaningful and dynamic work at a university committed to international excellence and continuous development.

- A vibrant workplace located in the heart of Vilnius — an inspiring, culturally rich European capital.
- Opportunities to implement your academic ideas through Summer/Winter Academies, Brown-Bag Sessions, and other institutional initiatives.
- Support for research projects, competitive grants, and publications in high-ranking international journals.
- Opportunities for international collaboration and mobility, including participation in the Erasmus+ staff mobility program.
- Professional development and cooperation with top universities worldwide through conferences, projects, and academic networks.
- A competitive compensation package, based on professional experience, academic qualifications, and workload (lecturing, research, publications, administrative duties).
- 40 working days annual leave per year, in accordance with the Lithuanian Labour Code.
- Additional health insurance.
- Extra days off during the Christmas period.
- Well-being initiatives, such as a Wellness Day, access to a Detox Room, and other benefits promoting a healthy work-life balance.
- Access to the Perks.It platform, offering discounts and deals from over 600 partners (including Rimi, About You, Telia, Samsung, Apollo, Impuls, and etc.).
- Festive and community traditions, including birthday surprises, Christmas celebrations, seasonal opening and closing events, team-building budgets, and loyalty rewards.
- An organizational culture with a “one step ahead” mindset, encouraging innovation, collaboration, and initiative.
