Post-Doc Position in Sustainable Supply Chain Transformation at the House of Innovation, Stockholm School of Economics (SSE)

Department of Entrepreneurship, Innovation and Technology

The House of Innovation is looking for a dedicated scholar with a robust research background to join us for two years. The ideal candidate must be comfortable working collaboratively with a dynamic team. The position will be at the heart of growing research programs on sustainable supply chain transformation/ supply chain ecosystems. The wider context of the House of Innovation allows research to delve into the areas of transformative innovation, particularly the twin transition (green and digital) of industries, working primarily with Professors Constantin Blome and Pär Åhlström. The position comes with an option to teach and strong support to publish existing research from the PhD.

The successful candidate has built a research agenda during their PhD and is keen to jointly publish in top tier journals. Furthermore, the funding context allows the exploration of unique data access in industry and the pursuit of exiting new research topics. The emphasis of the current research of the candidate can be in the areas of sustainability/ green, digital, geopolitical, or resilience in supply chains. This role is ideal for candidates passionate about advancing our understanding of new/ transient/ emerging supply chain phenomena.

A background with experience and high proficiency in either qualitative empirical methods (case studies, interviews, and observations) or quantitative empirical methods (secondary data analysis, experiments) is mandatory.

The applicants must hold a PhD or equivalent and show an ability and aspiration to publish manuscripts in the top journals of our field. Priority will be given to candidates with research relevant to the topics above. Professional proficiency in English (written and spoken) is a requirement. We expect the candidate to relocate to Stockholm.

About the House of Innovation (HOI)

The House is an interdisciplinary research, education, outreach, and venturing environment focused on innovation, digitalization and entrepreneurship. The foundation of any successful research environment is the quality of its research output. Where the House of Innovation distinguishes itself in this regard is in its dynamic research environment. Here, internationally competitive researchers are encouraged and supported to explore interdisciplinary nuances in their work and discover uncharted insights. With a strong commitment to developing talent we provide an excellent context and environment for postdoc scholars to advance their academic careers. More information about HOI here.

About the Stockholm School of Economics (SSE)

The Stockholm School of Economics is the leading business school in the Nordics (Financial Times rankings).
