akadeus.com
JOBS IN BUSINESS SCHOOLS

Assistant Professor / Lecturer in Business Disciplines (Marketing, Finance, Accounting, AI & Technology – Global Program)

Company:
Tetr College of Busines

Location:
United Arab Emirates / Remote with Travel (USA, Europe, China, SEA, LATAM, MENA)

Discipline:
Marketing, Finance, Accounting, Strategy, Tech, AI and more

Employment Type:
Permanent Full-time

Posted:
07/09/2026

Contact Person:
If you wish to apply for this position, please specify that you saw it on AKADEUS.

The Story Behind Tetr

Picture this: a business program that isn't just about textbooks and lectures—it's an adventure that spans 7 different countries, with each semester bringing a new destination and a wealth of experience. Imagine studying at iconic institutions like Illinois Tech - USA, ASU, NUS, IIT and learning from some of the brightest minds in the business world like Dr. Edward Rogers (Former Chief Knowledge Officer, NASA), Mr. Faverie Stephane (Executive Group President, Estee Lauder) and Mr. Saud Swar (CBO, American Express, MENA). From launching dropshipping businesses in Dubai to tackling tech startups in Silicon Valley, our students traverse the globe, building businesses and making a tangible impact. At Tetr the world is your classroom.

If this excites you, and you resonate with our vision, then we'd love for you to come and build with us. We're calling on bold, driven individuals to be part of a movement that's reshaping business education. At Tetr, this isn't just a college experience- it's a platform to build the future. As we chart our journey across seven countries, this is your chance to make a real, global impact. Tetr is more than an academic institution; it's a launchpad for changemakers, a community for those who think beyond borders, and an opportunity to leave behind a legacy that inspires generations to come.

About Tetr College of Business

Tetr College of Business is a new-age, global business school founded by Pratham Mittal that offers undergraduate and postgraduate programs in management, technology, and artificial intelligence through a highly experiential learning model, where students study across 7+ countries over eight semesters, gaining direct exposure to a variety of business environments, industries, and cultures. Our curriculum emphasizes real-world application, global fluency, and entrepreneurial action, giving students the tools to thrive in any business setting. Our current undergraduate programs, including the Bachelor of Management & Technology and the Bachelor of Science in Artificial Intelligence, are built on the principle that students learn best by doing. Recently, Tetr College of Business was recognized as a QS Gold Winner for "Most Innovative Business School" at the QS Reimagine Education Awards, recognizing our transformative approach to experiential, global learning.You can learn more about Tetr here.

Tetr's founder, Mr. Pratham Mittal, is a Wharton alumnus and serial entrepreneur. He has previously launched three successful ventures — Masters' Union (now ranked among India's top business schools), Tetr College of Business, and Outgrow. This leading interactive content platform has served clients such as The New York Times, Nike, Tesla, and Salesforce.

Job Description

Position: Assistant Professor/ Lecturer

Location: Remote with Travel to the USA, Europe, China, SEA, LATAM, MENA etc.

Role Overview

Tetr College of Business is seeking dynamic and dedicated faculty members to educate and inspire the next generation of global business leaders. We are hiring full-time faculty across various business disciplines, including Marketing, Finance, Accounting, Tech, AI and more for undergraduate programs across management & technology. The ideal candidates will have a strong track record of delivering exceptional student learning experiences and a commitment to continuously enhancing their teaching methods through innovation and best practices. Additionally, successful candidates should actively engage in research that contributes valuable insights to both academic and industry audiences. Beyond the classroom, we seek faculty who are eager to enrich the broader Tetr community and play an active role in shaping an outstanding educational experience for our students.

Key Responsibilities

As an Assistant Professor at Tetr College of Business, you will play a pivotal role in shaping the next generation of entrepreneurial leaders. Your responsibilities will include:

- Teaching and contributing to Content Development and Curriculum design in your related area, such as ○ Sales and Marketing

1. Finance and Accounting
2. Economics
3. Artificial Intelligence/ Machine Learning
4. Computer Science

- Mentorship and Student Engagement Serve as a mentor to graduate students, offering academic guidance, leadership coaching, and support for entrepreneurial ventures and career development.

- Research and Thought Leadership Conduct and publish high-quality, practitioner-relevant research that contributes to the field of entrepreneurial leadership. Engage with the broader academic and business communities through conferences, publications, and thought leadership initiatives.
- Program Contribution and Collaboration Work closely with the faculty to support program design, admissions, events, and strategic initiatives. Actively contribute to the culture of innovation, experimentation, and interdisciplinary collaboration that defines Tetr.
- Community and Industry Engagement Build strong connections with industry leaders, alumni, and ecosystem partners to enrich the learning experience and drive real-world impact for students.

Qualifications:

- A full-time PhD in a directly related area of teaching from a reputed university, or business school (preferably AACSB / EQUIS / AMBA accredited). Candidates who have recently completed their doctorate will also be considered.
- Proven expertise and teaching experience at the undergraduate and postgraduate levels in their respective business disciplines, a strong record of student engagement, and positive feedback are highly desirable.
- Practical industry experience in international business is highly desirable, enabling faculty to integrate real-world applications into academic learning.
- Actively support students in developing and launching their own business ventures by providing mentorship, industry insights, and practical guidance tailored to their respective fields.

Why Join Us?

- Impact: Be part of a passionate team dedicated to reshaping business education and be instrumental in building the student experience vertical from scratch.
- Career growth: Enjoy ample opportunities for professional development and growth with available programs such as professional development certificates like PPDP, PGCHEP.
- Funding: For research and conference participation.
- Gain International Experience: Opportunity to travel to various basecamps of Tetr, such as in North America, Latin America, the Middle East, Europe, and Southeast Asia.
- Innovation: Thrive in an environment that values innovative thinking and encourages the exploration of new ideas to enhance the student experience.

How to Apply?

Interested candidates are requested to complete the application form at this link and upload a detailed CV highlighting their teaching and research interests.

Gain insights into our academic philosophy directly from the Tetr academic counsel here.

For a deeper understanding of Tetr's vision and the driving force behind our initiatives, hear from our founder and program director here.

For any questions or inquiries, please contact us at faculty.recruitment@tetr.org

Contact Person:
If you wish to apply for this position, please specify that you saw it on AKADEUS.