Full-Time Faculty Position in Entrepreneurship: Professor

ISM University of Management and Economics - Vilnius, Lithuania

ISM University of Management and Economics invites ambitious and dedicated academics to join our Faculty as a Professor in Entrepreneurship. This role offers an exceptional opportunity to teach, conduct research, and advance entrepreneurial education at one of the leading business universities in the Baltic region.

About ISM University of Management and Economics

ISM University of Management and Economics is a leading business university in the Baltic region, renowned for its academic excellence, international orientation, and impactful scholarship. In April 2025, ISM became the first university in the Baltic states to earn AACSB business accreditation, joining the elite group of business schools worldwide that meet the highest global standards in teaching, research, curriculum, and student outcomes.

Position Overview

The successful candidate will be responsible for developing and delivering high-quality lectures and seminars in Entrepreneurship at the bachelor's and master's levels.

Primary teaching areas include (but are not limited to):

- Entrepreneurship
- Innovation Management
- Digital Business

The role also includes supervising bachelor's and master's theses, leading research in entrepreneurship or related fields, and actively participating in academic and institutional initiatives aimed at strengthening entrepreneurial, innovative, and practice-oriented education at ISM.

Key Responsibilities

- Develop and deliver engaging, high-quality lectures and seminars in entrepreneurship-related subjects.
- Design, update, and innovate course content to reflect the latest insights in entrepreneurship research, innovation management, digital entrepreneurship, and the global startup ecosystem.
- Mentor and supervise students preparing bachelor's and/or master's theses, especially those focused on entrepreneurial topics.
- Conduct independent and collaborative research in entrepreneurship, publishing in AJG-ranked academic journals.
- Present research findings at leading academic conferences and apply for competitive research grants (national and international).
- Engage with the entrepreneurship community, including incubators, accelerators, startups, and industry partners, to enrich teaching and experiential learning.
- Collaborate with faculty across disciplines on research projects and academic initiatives.
- Participate in faculty meetings, committees, program development, and community-related activities.

Qualifications

- PhD in Entrepreneurship, Innovation, Management, Business Administration, or a closely related field.
- At least 3 years of teaching experience in higher education (entrepreneurship, innovation, or related areas).
- A strong research record, demonstrated through publications in recognised AJG-ranked journals, particularly in entrepreneurship and innovation.
- Experience or research interests in areas such as venture creation, startup ecosystems, entrepreneurial strategy, entrepreneurial leadership, innovation processes, or entrepreneurial finance.
- Proven excellence in teaching and a strong commitment to student-centred, experiential, and practice-based learning.
- Excellent communication skills and the ability to engage students in interactive, project-based, and real-world entrepreneurial learning environments.
- International academic or professional experience, preferably in European or North American institutions.

- A collaborative mindset and strong interpersonal skills for working in a diverse academic community.

What We Offer

- An academic environment where the desire and passion to positively impact society are key motivators.
- Meaningful and dynamic work at a university committed to international excellence and continuous development.
- A vibrant workplace located in the heart of Vilnius — an inspiring, culturally rich European capital.
- Opportunities to implement your academic ideas through Summer/Winter Academies, Brown-Bag Sessions, and other institutional initiatives.
- Support for research projects, competitive grants, and publications in high-ranking international journals.
- Opportunities for international collaboration and mobility, including participation in the Erasmus+ staff mobility program.
- Professional development and cooperation with top universities worldwide through conferences, projects, and academic networks.
- A competitive compensation package, based on professional experience, academic qualifications, and workload (lecturing, research, publications, and administrative duties).
- 40 working days of annual leave per year, in accordance with the Lithuanian Labour Code.
- Additional health insurance according to internal policies.
- Extra days off during the Christmas period.
- Well-being initiatives, such as a Wellness Day, access to a Detox Room, and other benefits promoting a healthy work-life balance.
- Access to the Perks.It platform, offering discounts and deals from over 600 partners (including Rimi, About You, Telia, Samsung, Apollo, Impuls, and others).
- Festive and community traditions, including birthday surprises, Christmas celebrations, seasonal opening and closing events, team-building and training budgets, and loyalty rewards.
- An organisational culture with a “one step ahead” mindset, encouraging innovation, collaboration, and initiative.

Application Process:

Interested candidates are invited to submit the following materials to cv@ism.lt:

1. Curriculum vitae (CV) with a list of publications and relevant academic achievements.
2. A cover letter that highlights your teaching philosophy, research interests, and suitability for the position.
3. Teaching evaluations, if available.
4. Names and contact information of 2 professional references.

ISM University of Management and Economics is committed to diversity and inclusivity and encourages applications from candidates of all backgrounds. All applications will be treated with confidentiality.

We look forward to receiving applications from qualified candidates.
