Assistant, Associate, Full Professor in Operations Management

Starting date: September 1, 2027

Institution: Nova School of Business and Economics (Universidade Nova de Lisboa)

Location: Lisbon, Portugal

Position description: Nova School of Business and Economics (Nova SBE), a triple-accredited institution (AACSB, EQUIS, and AMBA), opens positions at the Assistant, Associate or Full (tenure track) Professor level in Operations Management, Decision Sciences, or Business Analytics, starting on September 1, 2027. Applicants should have a Ph.D. degree in Operations, Decision Sciences, Business Analytics, Computer Science or a related discipline by the start date. Applicants should exhibit a solid research record and need to demonstrate ability to publish in leading international business peer-reviewed journals, such as Management Science, Operations Research, Manufacturing & Service Operations Management, and Production and Operations Management. Selected applicants are also expected to contribute to teaching in Operations, Management of Information Systems, Business Analytics, Data Management, Privacy, or other related areas. Compensation is competitive with top universities in Europe.

School description: Nova SBE offers programs in management, economics, and finance at the undergraduate, master, MBA, and doctorate levels, as well as executive education. Nova SBE provides an international research environment and ranks consistently among the top business schools in Europe. To support the development of a research-oriented career, Nova SBE provides a balanced teaching workload, compensation, and research-support incentives that are competitive with top business schools in Europe. English is the working language of the school and knowledge of Portuguese is not a requirement.

Nova SBE's campus is in Lisbon at Carcavelos Beach. Lisbon is consistently ranked one of the cities with the best quality of life in the world and offers an outstanding combination of exceptional lifestyle, relatively low cost of living, and an extensive set of cultural and leisure opportunities.

Application details: Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement and job market paper. Applications will be assessed on a rolling basis and candidates who submit their application package by October 1, 2026 will be given priority and considered for an interview during the annual INFORMS conference. All applications must be received by November 15, 2026. Applications will be accepted online and must be submitted HERE (Qualtrics form).
