Professor of Practice (ASSISTANT, SENIOR OR PRINCIPAL) in Information Systems (Focused on Cybersecurity) (Lille/Paris Campus)

In response to its continuous growth, IÉSEG School of Management is looking for a permanent Professor of Practice in information Systems at the Assistant, Senior or Principal Professor level (Lille/Paris Campus, starting September 2027). He/She/They will be a part of the Department of "Innovation, Entrepreneurship & Information Systems".

ABOUT IÉSEG SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT

IÉSEG holds the "triple crown" of international accreditations (AACSB, AMBA & EQUIS) and is a member of the "Conférence des Grandes Écoles". The School offers Bachelor, Master and Post-Graduate Degrees as well as Executive Education programs. IÉSEG is also one of the leading French business schools in terms of research. The IÉSEG Research Center is accredited by the French CNRS (National Center for Scientific Research). Our Lille Campus is in the heart of Northern France (within the triangle made up by London, Paris and Brussels), and our Paris Campus is located in the biggest European business district of "La Défense". More information on the school can be found here: www.ieseg.fr/en.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

The department of “Innovation, Entrepreneurship & Information Systems” consists of more than 20 permanent academic staff who teach and perform research in the areas of Information Systems, Digital Transformation, Entrepreneurship, Design Thinking, among others. An overview of our diverse group of professors can be found here: Innovation, Entrepreneurship & Information Systems Department

ABOUT THE POSITION

The successful candidate will have a proven track record of excellence in teaching. Active contribution to the design and development of the school’s programs is expected, as well as participation in the School’s service. He/she/they is therefore expected to hold a PhD in Information Systems or a related field for a full-time position, with extensive experience and a network in the European cybersecurity ecosystem. Current and continuing engagement as a practitioner is expected of part-time faculty. The position does not have a research mission, however research, in particular via case studies, is encouraged.

In terms of teaching, the successful candidate will be expected to deliver high-quality teaching at the undergraduate, and/or graduate levels in our flagship Grande Ecole program as well as in the Master of Cybersecurity Management program. In addition to the typical information systems courses, the candidate shall be able to teach technical courses such as Operating Systems Foundations, Infrastructure Foundations, Penetration Testing, or Digital Forensics and Incident Response. The ability to teach in French in our Executive programs is a plus. Expertise in AI will be considered a very strong plus.

In addition, he/she/they will contribute to the development of the Department’s programs and assume academic responsibilities. As such, we are looking for candidates who are fluent in English, as most courses are taught in this language. Professional experience and knowledge of French are a plus, but not a requirement.

The candidate will be expected to actively participate in the life of the department, including by mentoring junior colleagues, as well as advising and mentoring students at all levels, in addition to participating in departmental and university service activities (such as the coordination of minor, programs, etc.)

Finally, we are looking for candidates who embody our core values of Accomplishment, Responsibility, Integrity, Solidarity, and Engagement, and fit our diverse and international culture in which over 50 nationalities are represented. IÉSEG places tremendous value on diversity and inclusion, and we, therefore, encourage applications from all backgrounds. Underrepresented groups in academia (notably women, minority ethnic groups, people identifying as LGBTQIA+, people with a (non-)visible disability, and people from lower socio-economic backgrounds and/or economically developing countries) are particularly encouraged to apply, as we are highly committed to ensuring that IÉSEG reflects and benefits from the diversity present in society.

WORKING AT IÉSEG

At IÉSEG, we are committed to providing a supportive and engaging work environment. To new faculty members (and their partner), we offer a wide range of resources to help them integrate into the country, culture and school, such as individualized French language courses (for faculty members and their partner), a relocation allowance, and housing search assistance. Moreover, all faculty members have access to a competitive salary, as well as benefits such as French social security, a complementary health insurance, meal vouchers a profit-sharing plan, and a contributory pension scheme.
