Core Faculty Positions in all departments, EADA

EADA Business School is seeking to appoint four new Assistant Professors (all academic departments). Candidates must have completed a PhD in Management or a related field from an accredited university and show promise and trajectory to publish in ABS 3 or ABS 4 management journals in the near future. EADA is especially interested in candidates working in areas related to innovation, sustainability, and emerging approaches to leadership connected to these issues. Although it is not a requirement, preference will be given to candidates with a focus on data analytics or systems transformation.

The candidate would be joining EADA's Full-Time Faculty, currently composed of 35 people, and working closely with our large group of adjunct faculty. Researchers from this department have published their work in leading management journals including: Academy of Management Journal, Human Resource Management Journal, Journal of Business Ethics, Journal of Vocational Behavior, Technovation, Business Strategy and the Environment, European Journal of Operational Research, Journal of Operations Management, Journal of Supply Chain Management, among others.

While the role and focus on research at EADA has grown significantly in recent years, EADA is a teaching-led institution that believes in the need for Business Schools to be close to the needs of its programme participants and corporate clients. We do this by providing high-quality, research-informed programmes, and focussing on the development of managerial competences and skills necessary for leadership, teamwork and critical thinking.

Your teaching will be informed by your own discipline-based scholarship and, by your own practice and research. Successful candidates will hold a Ph.D., demonstrate excellent teaching abilities (on- and offline), have strong research skills and may be expected to contribute to customised in-company programmes. The ability and willingness to teach in both Spanish and English will also be taken into consideration, since successful candidates will have to interact in both languages. Experience in the use of the case methodology for teaching is considered a plus.

How to Apply

Applicants are encouraged to send their full curriculum vita (including research in progress), a letter explaining their motivation to apply, teaching philosophy and research interests, and two letters of recommendations to iberasategui@eada.edu.

The position will remain open until filled, and only the shortlisted candidates will be contacted for further interviews.

More about EADA Business School

History

Originally founded in 1957, EADA became a Higher Education foundation in 1984. This foundation was dedicated to training, applied research and knowledge transfer within the local and international business community.

EADA is a global institution, with a campus in the Barcelona city centre, a residential training campus and a virtual campus that is accessible from anywhere in the world.

EADA is also present worldwide through alliances with international foundations and educational institutions. As an organisation, we consider that social responsibility and global sustainability principles need to be applied in all our training programmes, and that these principles go hand-in-hand with the objective of maximum corporate.

Rankings and Accreditations
