Requirements

Successful candidates will be - or have the potential to become - leading academics in their fields, able to develop research projects, engage in the academic environment of Luiss, and contribute to the University's development and visibility. Each position offers the opportunity to launch new research streams as well as teach on preferred subjects. Luiss is particularly interested in attracting scholars who have submitted - or are in the process of developing - a proposal to apply for a European Research Council (ERC) Grant.

About the University

Luiss specializes in the Social Sciences and educates over 10,000 students, in a diverse and international learning environment. The University has adopted the enquiry-based educational approach and aims to consolidate its stance in social sciences, as well as enlarge the scope of its interests to include humanities, artificial intelligence, and security. Through its privileged relationship with Confindustria, Italy's largest industrial association, Luiss has developed connections with the business community, government institutions, and civil society. With over 300 international partnerships, Luiss offers 60 double and triple degree programmes and is an active member of relevant academic networks (e.g., QTEM and the European University ENGAGE.EU).

Luiss is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. All expressions of interest will receive consideration without discrimination on any ground.

Luiss offers competitive family allowance packages, as well as assistance for welcoming new international faculty. Fiscal incentives are offered by the Italian law to individuals relocating from abroad.
