ABOUT ESLI and GIP CEI

ESLI (Ecole Supérieure de Logistique Industrielle) is part of the GIP CEI, a public institution grouping together several components in the fields of industry, management sciences and engineering sciences. The school currently has 2 sites: Redon and Paris Cachan.

Since 2016, the GIP CEI has been accredited by the French government's investment programmes for the future (PIA2 and PIA3), enabling strong development of strategic training programmes for the French government. The GIP CEI has just been selected by the government for 2023 as part of the "Skills and Professions of the Future" France Relance 2030 plan. The recruitment will follow on from this, in support of an ambitious national and international roadmap combining training and applied research.
