Full-time tenure-track faculty position in Mathematics and Statistics

John Cabot University, an accredited American liberal arts university in Rome, Italy, invites applications for an open-rank (assistant or associate) full-time tenure-track faculty position in Mathematics and Statistics.

We are seeking candidates with a Ph.D. in Mathematics or in Statistics, or in a closely related quantitative area, demonstrated excellence in teaching and research, and commitment to academic service. Familiarity and experience with the American liberal arts educational tradition will be considered an advantage.

The initial appointment is for two years, with the possibility of tenure. Candidates should be fluent in English, which is the language of instruction, and have permission to work in the European Union.

The successful candidate will be expected to start in Fall semester 2024. They will be expected to teach three courses per semester at various undergraduate levels in Mathematics and/or Statistics, to contribute to curriculum development, to undertake research, and to be an active member of the Department and University community.

Applicants should send 1) a cover letter addressing the candidate's interest and fit for this position at an American liberal arts University in Rome; 2) an updated curriculum vitae; 3) a statement of teaching and research interests; 4) evidence of teaching excellence; 5) samples of recent research output. Materials should be sent as a single pdf file to mathematicssearch2023@johncabot.edu. Applicants should arrange for three confidential letters of recommendation to be sent separately to the same email address.

The application deadline is December 29, 2023. Applications will be reviewed until the position is filled. Only short-listed candidates will be notified.

Information about JCU can be found at: <http://www.johncabot.edu/>. Inquiries about the position may be addressed to Prof. Patrizio Angelini at pangelini@johncabot.edu.
