Lectureship positions at Westminster International University in Tashkent

Westminster International University in Tashkent (WIUT) is the first international university in Uzbekistan to offer a Western-style education with UK qualifications. WIUT was established in 2002 and was voted the number one University in Uzbekistan which produced the top social sciences research by Scopus in 2023. WIUT is still a young university with more than 5,200 students and more than 140 full-time faculty with an established presence and a growing international reputation. WIUT has blended the traditions and standards of British education with the culture and environment of Central Asia.

WIUT's development strategy is based on three strategic affairs of the University: Student Experience, Staff Experience, and Society Engagement. Our Strategic Priorities are focused on enhancing these three pillars by Strengthening, Smartening and Sustaining them. For more information: <http://www.wiut.uz/>

The posts are full-time and are advertised until positions are filled.

Our Main Benefits:

- Competitive salary depending on experience (international academic staff members are tax-exempt)
- Accommodation allowance paid monthly
- Paid flight on arrival and return flight at the end of contract
- 56 calendar days' paid leave per year
- Health insurance

- Staff development opportunities

Main Duties and Responsibilities

In your role as a Faculty Member, you will be dedicated to undertaking teaching, subject development, research, and related administration on a range of courses, including both undergraduate and postgraduate courses in your selected subject area. You will also work with WIUT to manage the development of its undergraduate and postgraduate courses.

Central to the vision of WIUT is to represent the excellence of Uzbekistan's education and research capacity in the global arena. WIUT's distinctiveness is primarily based on an atmosphere that contributes to the intellectual, cultural, and social enrichment of students offered by a centrally located in downtown Tashkent University. The language of instruction for all studies is English.

As a Faculty Member, you will be focused on the student experience through high-quality teaching, personal guidance, and support to ensure that students master and apply the material. We are seeking someone committed to the development, delivery, and administration of a module or set of modules, intellectually curious, and prepared to engage in research in their field of expertise.

The position will carry the rank of Lecturer.

Compensation package, benefits and working conditions are competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications. Attractive start-up research support will be available.
